

Wonderful Wiltshire Follies

Jonathan Holt

Jonathan Holt will take us on a fascinating tour of Wiltshire revealing the stories behind the county's many architectural follies.

Wiltshire is full of these curious buildings which can take many forms from towers to grottoes and temples to mock ruins. A lot of follies are tucked away on private ground but Jonathan has gained exclusive access to many of these and his talk, explaining why and when various follies came to be built, is illustrated with his photographs.

Jonathan has been talking and writing on the subject of architectural follies for 30 years, including as editor of 'Follies', the organ of the Folly Fellowship, a charity dedicated to their preservation, (www.follies.org.uk).

Copies of Jonathan's book, Wiltshire Follies, will be available to purchase at this talk.
